

Information Quality & Security Policy

The main objective of the Unified Management System of B-logica is to create a basis for the continuous improvement of the efficiency of the processes, always aiming at the continuous satisfaction of the needs and expectations of its customers, employees and partners, to the maximum extent possible.

For the implementation of the above, the Management continuously supports and applies the basic principles and rules that govern the Unified Management System of the Company, establishing objectives for the Quality and Security of Information, based on the undivided and constructive cooperation of both its employees and of its partners.

The basic principles as they are expressed in the procedures of the Unified Management System of the Company are:

- The observance of prescribed requirements of the customers as they have been agreed through mutually accepted and agreed offers / contracts, in order to increase their satisfaction.
- The constructive cooperation with all partners. • The continuous information and training of the staff.
- Investigating causes of non-conformities or complaints and further determining corrective actions.
- The recognition and compliance with the legislation that governs each activity performed by it.
- The commitment to Information Security and ensuring the availability, integrity and confidentiality of information, produced, received and traded in the context of the provision of services and the implementation of projects.
- Maximizing the reliability of the Company's information resources.
- Securing resources for the implementation and continuous improvement of the applied Unified Management System.

The principles of the System, as well as the objectives for the Quality and Security of Information, are reviewed at regular intervals by the Company's Management in order to adapt to the new needs and developments of the market, the legislative requirements and also to achieve the goal of continuous improvement of the Company's operations.

Through the continuous reviews of the above, the Administration is in a constant search to identify both human and intangible needs. The Administration is committed to providing the required resources to cover the needs, as they arise and are shaped by the existing situations, to the best of its abilities.

All B-logica departments have the responsibility to respond, assimilate and implement the procedures required by the Unified Management System through their daily activities. It is also the responsibility of the Management of B-logica to ensure that the Quality and Information Security Policy is communicated, understood and applicable by all of the Company's human resources and all interested parties, with the ultimate goal of continuous, stable and unwavering commitment to its principles and the continuous offer to its customers of excellent quality products and services.
